

Golf: Destination Spain

Golf at Pedreña, Cantabria

Dear Friends,

Spain is the number one golf destination in Europe, with award-winning resorts across the whole territory sun soaked year round.

In Costa del Sol, top courses include 1997 Ryder Cup Venue, Valderrama, the Volvo World Match Play Championship course for three years in a row at Finca Cortesin, or the Real Club Sotogrande that commonly ranks in Europe's top ten. Our featured Greve Villa is a unique property close to the golf clubs and the perfect base to enjoy the cosmopolitan life of Sotogrande.

In the North we find familiar favorites such as the Pedreña golf course, the homeland of the legendary Severiano Ballesteros. It is situated in one of the most beautiful regions Cantabria between pinewood forests and with magnificent views of the bay of Santander. For its location, panorama and aesthetic, Pedreña is one of a kind. To round up your experience we recommend staying at the exclusive Los Hornillos Palace, the mansion where Alejandro Amenábar filmed "The Others" with Nicole Kidman in 2001.

At Greatness we invite you to enjoy privileged access and unique perspectives on the Spanish treasures.

Besides being one of the few examples of the Victorian architecture in Spain, this house is considered to be the precedent for the construction of the Magdalena's Royal Palace in Santander built for their majesties King Alfonso XIII and his wife Victoria Eugenia. The King and Queen have been themselves guests at Las Fraguas many times during the summer season.

The house is surrounded by a stunning park and gardens with a pond, rose garden and century trees beautifully displayed over thirty hectares. Its five suites have been fully restored to achieve the levels of modern comfort.
